

The Prometheus Man

How do you take down the perfect soldier? CIA Agent Tom Blake is twenty-five years old, proficient in Russian, and a graduate of Georgetown University. Newly transferred to Paris, he's landed on a major case: tracking the test subject of a secret government program to engineer the perfect soldier. There's just one problem: The man using Agent Blake's identity is not Agent Blake. He's Tom Reese. Reese is a gifted college drop-out who's looking for his brother Eric's killer. He stole Agent Blake's identity two months ago, shortly after the federal government let Eric Reese's case go cold. Then Reese transferred himself to Paris and bluffed his way onto the team tracing his only link to his brother's killer. He's getting close. But Tom Reese's time as a CIA agent is accelerating toward its expiration date. Soon the CIA will find out that Agent Blake is in two places at the same time. Soon the augmented man will realize he's got a tail. And soon both will discover that Tom Reese has also been altered--as the last, secret test subject of Project Prometheus. Tom Reese has vowed hell or high water to avenge his brother's death. He'll make sure Eric didn't die for nothing. But the people coming after him have other plans.

No stencils or patterns are ever used. Every birdhouse is treated with several coats of high quality exterior varnish for protection from the elements and to ensure colors will stay bright throughout the seasons. Birds love gourds for nesting and will often return to the same one year after year. When nesting season ends, the gourd's usefulness doesn't end. Birds will continue to use them as shelter from weather and for protection from predators.
