

A Blind Goddess (A Billy Boyle World War II Mystery)

March, 1944: US Army Lieutenant Billy Boyle, back in England after a dangerous mission in Italy, is due for a little R&R and a promotion. But two cases prevent now-Captain Boyle from kicking back. The first is a personal request from an estranged friend who grew up with Billy in Boston, and is part of the US Army's first combatant African-American company. The second is a bizarre and delicate murder case from British intelligence.

No stencils or patterns are ever used. Every birdhouse is treated with several coats of high quality exterior varnish for protection from the elements and to ensure colors will stay bright throughout the seasons. Birds love gourds for nesting and will often return to the same one year after year. When nesting season ends, the gourd's usefulness doesn't end. Birds will continue to use them as shelter from weather and for protection from predators.
